DAVIS MEMORIAL LIBRARY
METHODIST COLLEGE
FAYETTEVILLE, N. C. 28301

Love is subtle thing. Sometimes when you least expect it, love becomes more than a word of abstraction. A person whom you've known for a while suddenly picks up a glow that was never there before. You think of all those tender mercies, those things which make every man a hero in his own time. Giving up a little bit of time, a little more heart to share yourself with someone.

NEX

When you're at a school for a while, that place tends to take on characteristics of a person. Early in the morning looking at the sun rising, the Belltower like an arrow piercing a heart, it occurs that this school isn't such a bad place after all. There are always those moments of quiet solitude that bring thoughts flooding in; taking over all senses and intellect. Memories that will now include this small private college. (We can say that we know each other when we were young, when we were in love.)

Pictures of smiling faces of cheerleaders working out everyday in the Student Union, of James Green shooting over the heads of St. Andrews basketball players and of Mr. Pulliam talking in his enthusiastic way to his history classes. All these pictures are stored in memories just waiting for a button to be pressed to start them off.

When classes are in session, new items of information are always slipping through into our minds. Somehow when Dr. Christian talks about the romantic poets it occurs that this literature is still relevant, that Keat's "La Belle Dame Sans Merci" could be be talking about someone we know. In Dr. Gautam's economics class the oral reports about far-away countries tell the story that everyone is the same — only our superficial trappings separate us. All these classroom experiences teach us, even though it seems that sometimes we are just filling up chairs. In spite of the students, we learn.

On a rainy Wednesday morning the Student Union is filled with dripping people. Picking up a copy of Small Talk and glancing over it, it appears that Methodist is alive with activity far beyond its size. On the front page you find out that Women's Soccer and Golf are being added to the Athletic Program, that a famous British lecturer on the Chartres Cathedral of Paris is visiting campus and that 43 students received their diploma at winter graduation. "Patty's place" is funny as always.

In the sports section we find out the Methodist has defeated Campbell University. (Love is subtle; there is a lot of pride in the fact that the Monarchs beat a Division I school; especially Campbell!!)

In the bookstore Mrs. Rhodes sells you a candy bar and you think how much you'll miss her because she's always so nice. The same thing for all the Methodist staff — they're almost always there with a smile.

There are some pretty girls on the Methodist campus and when they smile it's a sight to wonder. (Love is a subtle thing. We will love to talk about that special flame.) Whistling "If I Only Had A Photograph of You" by A flock of Seagulls, you admire all the pretty eyes and the long looks. Oh to be young and free at MC!

EXIT

When the time comes to look through Carillon 1984 you'll think back to these days. It'll be sort of sad, thinking of the people you haven't seen in a long time. (You'll forget most of the bad times) but mostly you'll remember the good times. You'll even think that "Hey, I love Methodist College," and it'll be true.

Culture 1983-84

Michael Jackson, Boy George, Sting, Jennifer Beal, The Right Stuff all made 1983-84 a great year in entertainment. Pop music resurged to a prominence it had not enjoyed since the early 70's. Not since the Beatles had a performer had the impact that Michael Jackson and his album and video "Thriller" have in 1983.

The Police, with lead singer Sting, made 1983 great with the love ballad "Every Breath You Take." Boy George (man/woman) continued with the Police and Duran, Duran to make up a British invasion on a grand scale.

1983 was the twentieth anniversary of John F. Kennedy's death and the sad fact was commemorated and mourned in all areas of the media.

The Mercury/Gemini pilots were glorified in The Right Stuff, one of the best movies in 1983. Dancing and music made Flashdance the summer hit and the movie to see.

Some good books came out in 1983-84. The Heretics of Dune continued the Dune trilogy in science fiction. The Name of the Rose by Umberto Eco, a thriller set in a medieval monastary during the Middle Ages, surprised everyone by being the book to be read in 1983.

News 1983-84

It was a year of honor and amazement in the news.

While we were attending class in Fayetteville, NC over two hundred US Marines were killed in Beirut, Lebanon by an explosive-laden truck.

President Reagan ordered the USS New Jersey to open fire on Lebanon. The battle wagon's guns opened up craters the sixe of tennis courts in the hills near Beirut. It was the first naval action the United States was involved in since Vietnam.

The 82nd Airborne and other units of the US Armed Forces invaded the Caribbean island of Grenada to stop a takeover of the government by leftist rebels. There was protest against the action; but by in large the US public felt good to be actively defending "their" rights once again.

Democratic nominees for president — Gary Hart, Walter Mondale, Jesse Jackson and John Glenn — fought and bickered in a seemingly useless cause as Ronald Reagan got farther and farther ahead in the polls.

In North Carolina Jesse Helms and Governor Hunt battled for Helms' senate seat with charge of slander and dirty politics on both sides.

Hurdler Edwin Moses

Sports 1983-84

Olympics. Track and Field, Skiing and Skating dominated sports in 1983-84 as the 1984 Olympiad in Los Angles approached.

Carl Lewis of the University of Houston approached world records in several events including the long jump and triple jump. Lewis was being talked of as the best athlete of the twentieth century.

The Russians and Soviet-bloc nations pulled out of the summer olympics, citing poor security. Too bad; the Russians had champion athletes in almost every event including the world's best pole-vaulter.

Hurdler Edwin Moses continued the longest winning streak in track. Moses has not been beaten in the hurdles in nearly a decade.

In collegiate basketball, Georgetown finally won a national championship; Miami won the national football title and the Raiders claimed another Superbowl title.

The Baltimore Orioles were dominent in professional baseball winning another world series, but in 1984 the Detroit Tigers were stunning everyone.

Fine Arts

The Seagull

It seemed darkly moving and strong in the aspects of acting and staging. The Seagull, a play by Anton Chekhov, was produced at Methodist College by Jack Peyrouse during the Spring Semester.

The work of local actress Jane Berry (opposite page) and freshman Richard Briggs (right) made the performance into an artistic success. The acting matched the dark humor that Chekhov wrote the play in.

The staging was excellent, produced by Jeanette McMullen shortly before her death.

Sherry Kizzort (right), a sophomore from Fayetteville, played a bright happy girl in The Seagull who sees the star of fame as an actress pulling her on. Sadly her character (Nina) travels away from her country home and suffers soul-burning tragedies that turn her into a lost heart, a wandering seagull.

Always Something New

NAVY

One thing that is unique about a small college — and Methodist has its own brand of this — is the fact that at no point in the day are you sure of what you're going to be doing next. No one could have convinced president of the college Dr. Hendricks that he was going to be tossing horseshoes. Neither would sophomore James Arvantes from Arlington, Virginia have believed that he would be at the bottom of a pyramid on a snow-covered soccer field earlier that day.

These Are the Days

Athletics

Methodist Finishes Looking to Future

Methodist had a fair season in soccer. The Monarchs were led by All-South Denny Laird to a 4-10-1 mark. But perhaps the brightest characteristic of the season was the play of Methodist's 13 freshmen. Eric Dean was second in scoring for Methodist with eight goals. Methodist began the season with a victory over Stetson University in the Methodist College Invitational Soccer Tournament and ended their season with a 2-1 loss to UNC-Wilmington.

As a team Methodist scored 21 goals and gave up 32. Steven Springthorpe, the freshman goalie from Ballground, Georgia, had 117 saves and two shutouts. Coach Mason Sykes was impressed with his young team's ability.

"This year we had more depth than we've had in the past four or five years. Right now I feel that if we put the same team on the field and started over we would have a 10-5 record, that's the improvement we've made this year."

Perhaps the highlight of Methodist's season was 0-0 tie with nationally ranked North Carolina Wesleyan and the 5-0 shutout of Greensboro College.

Steve Springthorpe had 24 saves against NC Wesleyan while Eric Dean led the Monarch offense with five shots on goal.

"We played a consistent game for 90 minutes; that's the key," says Sykes.

The Monarchs look forward to 1984 as a great year for them, but it will be tough as they share the conference with two-time defending national champion UNC-Greensboro.

Denny Laird — All South

Cross Country

Don King was Methodist's Cross Country team's best runner in 1983 and was named to the All-Conference squad.

Conference Champion Christopher Newport dominated meets as Virginia State Champion Ron Borsheim led the Captains.

Methodist finished third in the Dixie Conference primarily because of King's steller performance.

Women's Tennis

Women's Tennis came back to Methodist College after a year's absence. The tennis players lost all matches in a conference dominated by UNC-Greensboro.

Players included MVP Robin Carter, Eve Derreth (L), Nona Davis and Akemi Otani.

Volleyball

Led by All-Conference performers Sonja Mixon and Robin Baxley, Methodist beat their previous year's record but still fell short of Coach Dan Lawrence's goals.

Methodist finished near the bottom of the conference ahead only of Averett College.

Consistency just wasn't there for Methodist volleyballers in 1983. Some strong individuals helped to boost the Lady Monarchs but losses outweighed the wins in the 6-17 year.

Basketball

Methodist improved in 1983-84, with some exciting wins over regional powers Campbell University and Pembroke State University. (Pembroke won the Carolina's Conference and finished in the top sixteen NAIA teams in the nation).

James Green was All-Conference for the Monarchs as he held the conference scoring title throughout the year, averaging 19.9 points a game.

Freshman star Lee Townsend led Methodist and the conference in rebounding throughout most the year with 8.3 rebounds a game.

Methodist didn't seem to get the breaks in conference play and ended their play in the conference tournament with a 70-65 loss to UNC-Greensboro. The Monarchs finished fourth in the conference after St. Andrews was eliminated for violation of NCAA Division III rules.

It was an exciting season with promise for the future.

Lady Monarchs Suffer Devastating Losses

Despite MVP Carla Oglesby and other good players, the women's basketball team never jelled into a single unit and suffered many losses in the nationally-ranked Dixie Conference.

Women's Basketball

Lady Monarchs — Young

Methodist's inexperience came to the fore as the women's basketball team suffered a great many losses to older teams.

"I'm proud of the team," says head coach Ginger Gold.

DIAC Champions

Extra Hours

Methodist's Cheerleaders took the first DIAC Cheerleading Championship after a long, tough dual season.

Team Co-Captain Ann Johnson said of the victory, "It feels real good! It is an important step for the sport in the conference and at Methodist."

The six months of long hours and hard work paid off for the young squad.

"Tell you what — there's nothing quite like being conference champion," says co-captain Rennie Stack.

Besides cheering at soccer and basketball games the Monarch cheerleaders work in cheerleading camps, perform at activities and do community service.

Golf

Golfers Finish Second In Nation

Led by two-time All-American Mike Baker (next page), who shot a 69 to tie the course record, Methodist golfers finished in second place in the NCAA Division III National Championship.

The Monarchs finished with a four-day total of 1,216 points, six strokes behind national champion California State-Stanislaus. Ramapo College (NJ) finished third, Worcester State fourth and Dixie Conference rival Greensboro College finished at fifth with 1,226.

Baker shot 74-77-74-69 to finish second behind Bob Osborne of California Redlands. Mickey Sokalski finished with a 304 and a second-team All-American designation while Mitchell Morgan (next page inset) shot 308 for All-American honorable mention. Mike Hartman (left) shot 319 and freshman John Walsh 321.

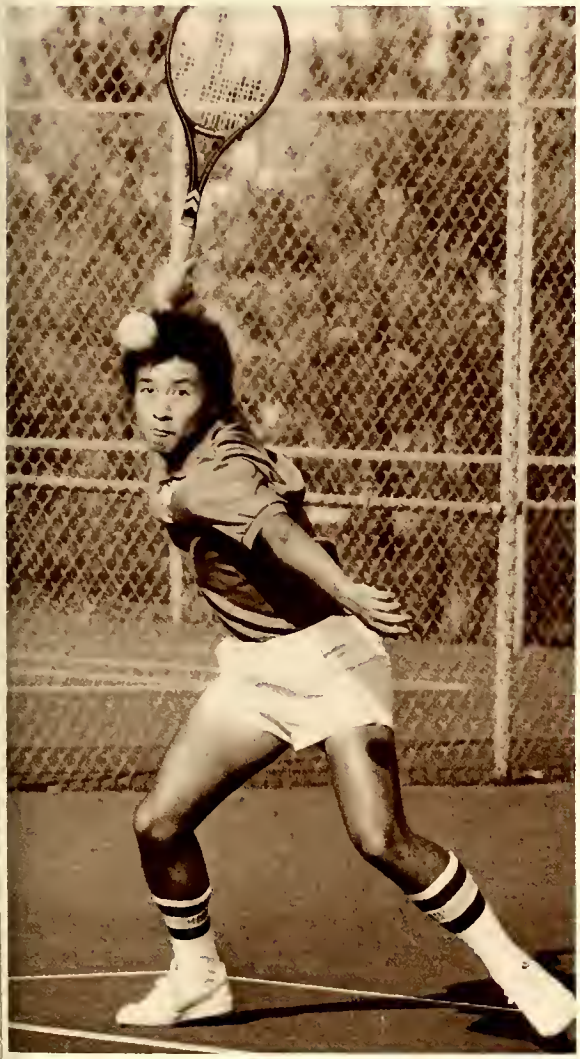
Men's Tennis



Methodist's Tennis program improved in 1984. Victor Campbell and Menyahil Getachew recorded victories for the Monarchs. The squad finished in last place in the Dixie Conference but set bench marks toward future seasons.

Most Valuable Player in tennis was number-one seed Bill Howard.

Baseball

Monarchs Enjoy 39-9 Season

Nineteen eighty-four was to be the year Methodist went to the World Series but Glassboro State (NJ) defeated Methodist in the regional championship 5-3.

Despite not going to the World Series, Methodist enjoyed a record-breaking season. Mike Currie captured the RBI school record; Dennis Forbes had the most homeruns; the list is endless.

Almost the entire squad was named All-Conference: Greg Pickett, Fred White, Doug Garner, Ron Proctor, Dennis Forbes, Kevin McCoy and Mike Currie.

Currie, White and Roger May were picked All-South. Currie had a .600 batting average and seven RBI's in the regionals.

Mike Currie (near left) and Ron Proctor (far left) were chosen All-American.

And with all the glory obtained on the NCAA Division III level, Methodist also chased some big ones. They played close with NC State, Wake Forest, UNC-Chapel Hill and South Carolina. Division I Eastern Kentucky fell to the Monarchs.

Methodist Claims Two All-Americans

Robert Hostetter set a new school record in the javelin (150-10) and was named All-Conference as Methodist claimed second place in the DIAC after All-American loaded Christopher Newport.
Sammy McQueen claimed first place in the triple-jump throughout the year and Roger Davis approached the school record in the 100-meters.

Softball

Lady Monarchs Finish Third

Coming off a late-season surge, Methodist pulled ahead in the Dixie Conference Tournament to finish third. The power batting of senior Robin Baxley (opposite page) and Jimmie Lou Morris helped the Lady Monarchs to their third place finish.

Methodist was 3-2 in the tournament and 8-12 in all conference action.

New Coach, Young Team Sparkle for Methodist

First-year coach Dan Lawrence compiled a 20-26 record in 1984 as the Lady Monarchs had some exciting wins against Campbell University and Pembroke State University. Freshman stars that included Jimmie Lou Morris, Karen Mason, Sonja Mixon and Retha Jackson made for a surprisingly strong squad in the Dixie Conference's last year of slowpitch softball.

Robin Baxley was named first-team All-Conference while Jimmie Lou Morris and Karen Mason received honorable mention.

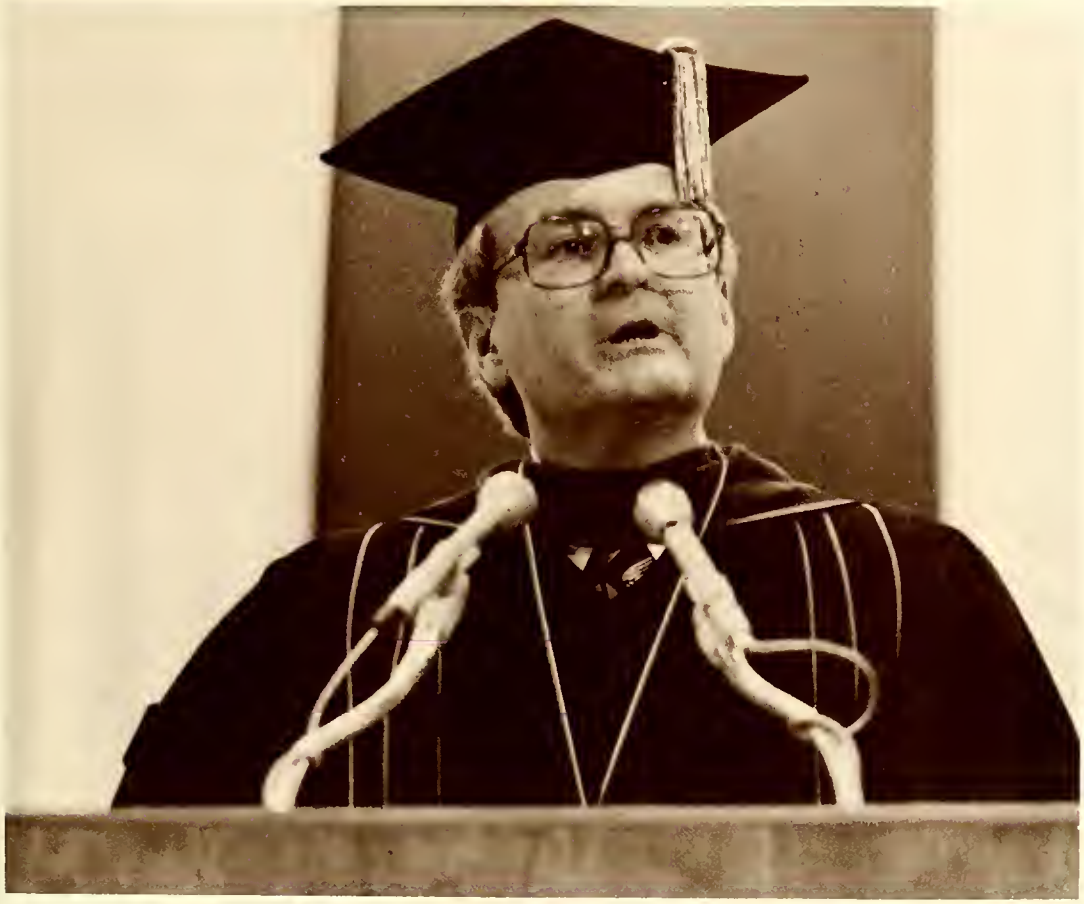
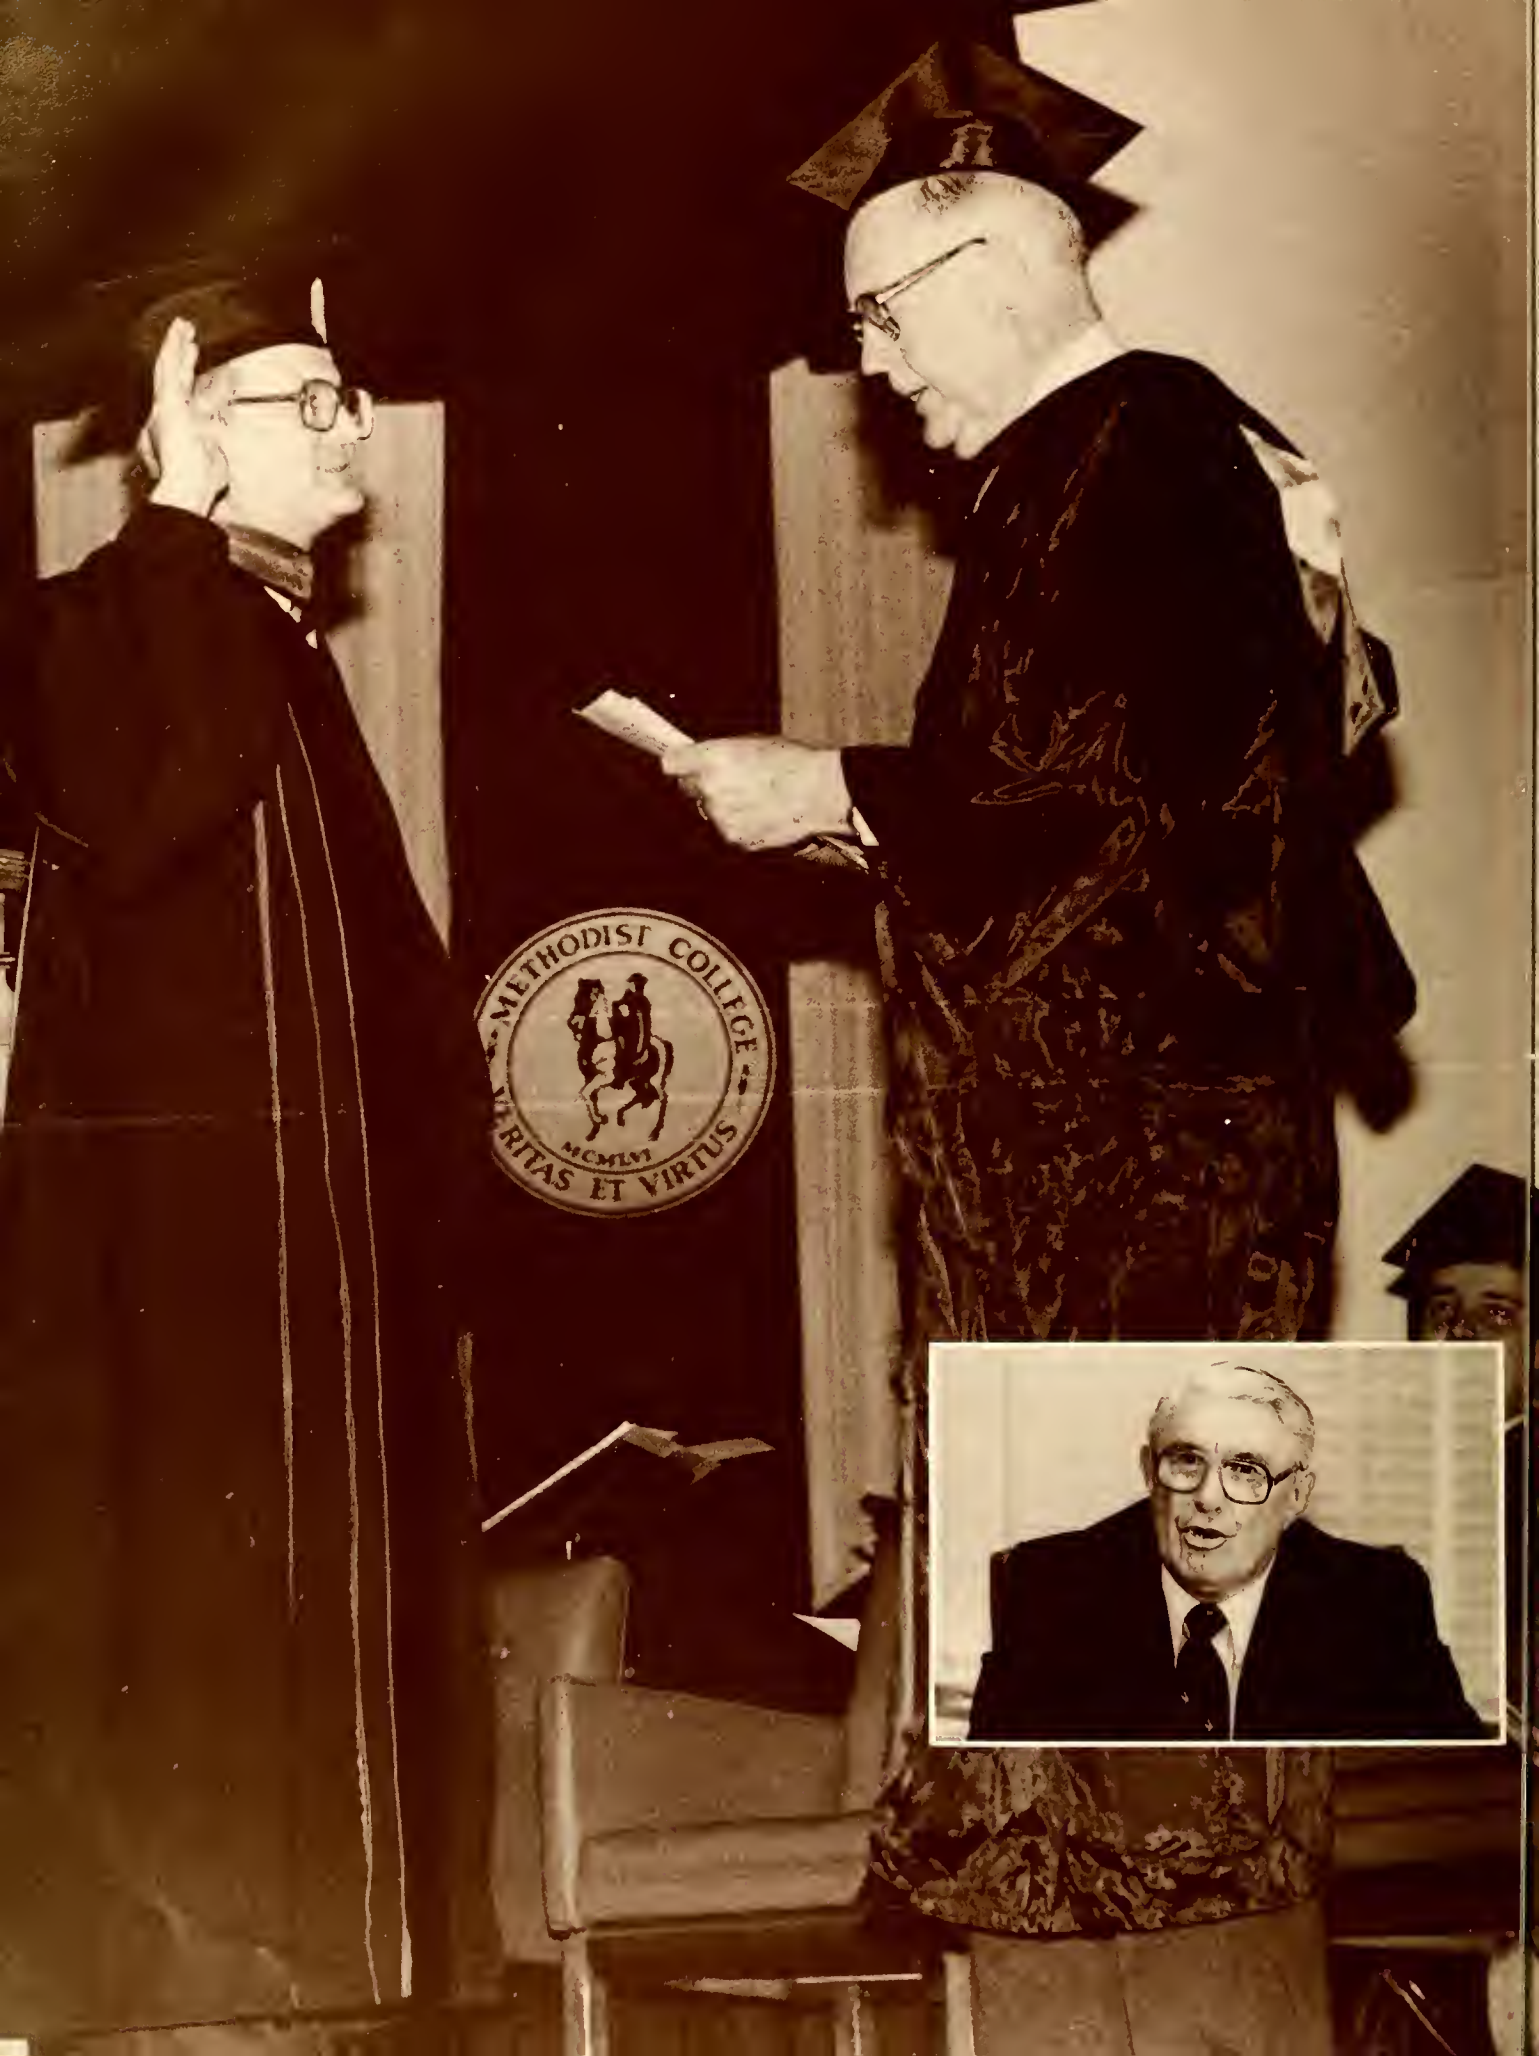
Inauguration

"Our Methodist College motto defines our program — truth and virtue. As a college we must call men to seek the truth. As a college in the Christian and Wesleyan tradition, we must call men to lives of virtue."

"That is our mission. It is a challenge that I take up eagerly."

M. Elton Hendricks





METHODIST COLLEGE
MCMLVI
RITAS ET VIRTUS

With all the pomp and circumstance of the crowning of a new monarch, Methodist College officially inaugurated its third president, Dr. M. Elton Hendricks on April 14, 1984.

Hendricks replaced Dr. Richard Pearce (inset) who was president of Methodist for 10 years (1973-1983).

It was the first presidential inauguration the school has had since the institution's first president Lucius Stacy Weaver.

That which we are, we are,
One equal temper of heroic hearts,
Made weak by time and fate, but strong in will,
To strive, to seek, to find, and not to yield.

— Alfred, Lord Tennyson
